BIG FISHER ESTATE. —Seven persons in Colorado awoke to find themselves rich beyond their fondest anticipation, says the Denver Post. Six million, six hundred and fifty thousand dollars is the enormous sum of money that has been awarded them by the final settlement of the $160,000,000 estate of Adam Fisher, who bequeathed an extensive canal system in Holland to his 200 heirs. Notification from the attorneys has just been received. Frank S. Fisher, of Denver, a barber, will receive $150,000 from the estate, but the largest legacy of all is that of Mrs. A. G. Curtis, of Canon City, Col. Mrs. Curtis is one of the seven direct Fisher heirs in the United States and her share is $4,000,000. The estate should have been settled 20 years ago, but a provision in the will was to the effect that all the heirs must be found before the division of the estate. Mrs. Fowler filed her claim nine years ago, but not until Sept. 23, last, was she notified that $500,000 would be her share of Adam Fisher's estate. There are still 50 other heirs in the United States who are ignorant of the fact that they are wealthy. Dr. W. M. Doores, of Crab Orchard, is an heir to this immense estate and that he will get a good slice of it, his many friends confidently hope and believe.
